FBI Terrorist Alert: Beware of Those Who 'Reference the Constitution or Bible'

By Mark Alexander · Thursday, February 9, 2012

Memo to Ron Paul supporters -- and anyone else interested in restoring constitutional integrity

"Wherever the real power in a Government lies, there is the danger of oppression." --James Madison (1788)

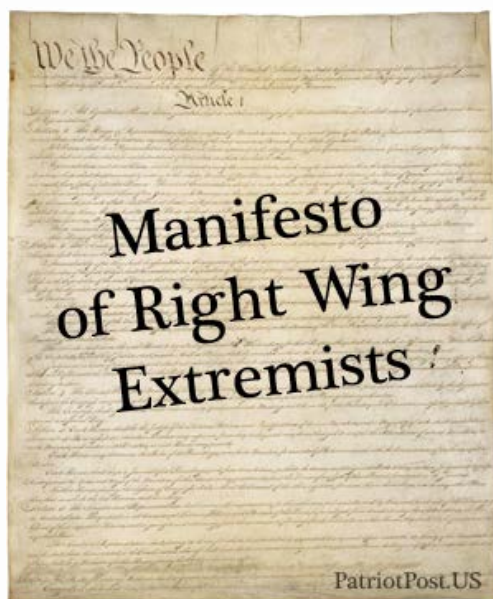

The FBI held a press conference this week on a terrorist alert bulletin, which it sent to every federal, state and local law enforcement agency across the country. Unfortunately, that bulletin continued a trend of "terrorist profiles" issued since Barack Hussein Obama has been in office. This particular alert identified such broad ideological characteristics that it can be construed to include the activities of tens of millions of law-abiding Americans.

The FBI counterterrorism division report concluded that those who believe that our government has exceeded its constitutional limits or are protesting for restoration of constitutional integrity might pose a threat. By that definition, anyone associated with the "Tea Party movement" is suspect, and that's the problem with this sweeping and politically motivated "bureaucrap."

Make no mistake: There are some deadly anti-government socialist and fascist radicals in America. For example, consider the man who launched someone's political career in 1994 -- Obama mentor William Ayers, who was previously the leader of the Weathermen, a murderous group of radical "useful idiots." They bombed the U.S. Capitol twice, the Pentagon, the Department of State, several federal courthouses, plus state and local government buildings -- with intent to kill. Unfortunately, the FBI never assembled sufficient evidence to convict Ayers. (Lucky break for Obama's career!)

Or how about Obama's radical, racist, hate-spewing pastor, Jeremiah Wright? This is the man who married the Obamas and baptized their children; the same man who regularly sermonized about "the US-KKK-A" with assertions that "The government lied about inventing the HIV virus as a means of genocide against people of color;" the man who said that the U.S. government "gives [black people] drugs, builds bigger prisons, passes a three-strikes law and then wants us to sing 'God Bless America.' No, no, no, g-d d--- America!"

Does that constitute a threat to the government?

The aforementioned FBI alert focused on the so-called "sovereign citizen" movement, which the FBI believes may have more than 500,000 members -- though it has no leaders, no membership roster, no organization at all. There is a "sovereign citizens" website which notes boldly, "We do NOT endorse non-payment of taxes or violence to achieve these changes. We do NOT endorse giving up a social security number and we do NOT endorse violence against the police or the government."

According to the FBI, some of those associated with this movement are engaged in crimes like underpaying taxes and other fraud, none of which should be classified as terrorism. According to a Reuters report on the press release, "Legal convictions of such extremists, mostly for white-collar crimes such as fraud, have increased from 10 in 2009 to 18 in 2011, FBI agents said."

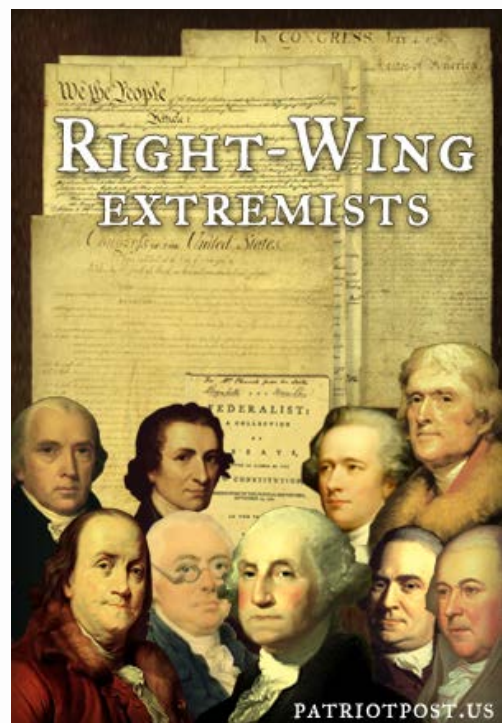

We did the math, and that's an increase of eight convictions.

Meanwhile, more than 5,200 of Obama's Occupy movement radicals were arrested in 2011, many for violent offenses, and some of those directed at police.

This is not to say that the FBI didn't have reason to warn law enforcement agencies. In May of 2010, two sociopaths, one of whom had mentioned "sovereign citizen" on a website, murdered two Arkansas police officers. But there are much more significant threats to uniformed officers.

Now, I spent some years in law enforcement, and some of those devoted to counter-terrorism. I still hold a reserve national security position with the Department of Homeland Security and, as such, maintain threat currency and contacts with domestic counter-terrorism folks. I mention this to say I can assure you that most federal, state and local law enforcement personnel abide by their oath to "support and defend the Constitution" and are steadfastly accountable to that oath. In other words, they understand that broadly labeling as "terrorists" those who support constitutional limits on government is offensive to that oath.

However, we now have an established Obama-era pattern of applying such broad labels, which began in 2009 when the DHS Office of Intelligence and Analysis issued a report on "Right-Wing Extremism." It claimed that those who use terms including "patriot" or "constitutionalist," and "link their beliefs to those commonly associated with the American Revolution," are a threat. It even went so far as to identify returning war veterans as "potential threats."

That report was so repulsive that it received a prompt rebuke from liberal Democrat Bennie Thompson, then chairman of the House Committee on Homeland Security, and Republican Peter King, its ranking member. Thompson wrote, "This report appears to raise significant issues involving the privacy and civil liberties of many Americans. ... Freedom of association and freedom of speech are guaranteed to all Americans. ... I am disappointed that the Department would allow this report to be disseminated to its State and local partners. ... I am dumbfounded that I&A released this report."

Thompson protested that the DHS report "blurred the line" between legal and illegal activity.

At the time, DHS spokesperson Amy Kudwa claimed the report was not finished and had been recalled: "This product is not, nor was it ever, in operational use." That notwithstanding,

DHS Secretary Janet Napolitano defended the report and insisted, "We do not -- nor will we ever -- monitor ideology or political beliefs. We take seriously our responsibility to protect the civil rights and liberties of the American people." (Trust her, she's from the government!)

However, such monitoring is not the contiguous prerogative of DHS, but that of federal, state and

Our Mission

Our objective is to provide Patriots across our nation with a touchstone of First Principles through brief, informative and entertaining analyses of local law enforcement agencies. This is why the latest national alert issued by the FBI should raise many red flags with overseers in the House and Senate.

Here are some excerpts from the FBI bulletin: "This ... domestic terrorist movement, which, scattered across the United States, has existed for decades. ... They do not represent an anarchist group, nor are they a militia. ... They operate as individuals without established leadership and only come together in loosely affiliated groups to ... socialize and talk about their ideology. They may refer to themselves as 'constitutionalists.' ... Several indicators can help identify these individuals. References to the Bible, The Constitution of the United States, U.S. Supreme Court decisions, or treaties with foreign governments..."

Those clips are taken out of context, but the problem with such broad profiles is that by the time they filter down through the channels, there are, inevitably, those who are not able to distinguish good from evil, or those whose political bias blinds them from such distinctions.

For example, shortly after DHS released its "Right-Wing Extremist" profile, I was contacted by Patriot readers, both officers and enlisted personnel, about a security exercise scenario at Ft. Knox. That scenario identified attackers as "Tea Party members" among "white supremacists" armed with "military grade weapons" and "bomb making components." (In fact, many military and law enforcement personnel identify with the Tea Party movement, which is why we were contacted by military readers.)

Within hours of posting that report, senior command staff at Ft. Knox contacted us and conceded that an officer in the security loop altered the scenario to include "the Tea Party in order to make it more realistic." The commanding officer assured us, "an official investigation has been initiated to determine the manner in which this information was included in the exercise scenario."

To make it "more realistic"? Every reader of this column can accurately profile the political identity of the individual who "altered the scenario."

So, given the current FBI profile, if these "terrorists" are members of an organization with no leaders, no membership and, in fact, no organization, how exactly are they to be distinguished from law-abiding political activists who believe our government has exceeded its constitutional authority? How are they to be distinguished from patriotic Americans who advocate for the restoration of constitutional integrity and proper limits on the role of government? There are plenty of us who, in the course of our objections to the erosion of the Rule of Law, might make "references to the Bible, The Constitution of the United States, U.S. Supreme Court decisions, or treaties with foreign governments..."

What purpose does this FBI memo really serve?

In October 2011, DHS attempted to make amends by publishing a training guide for "Countering Violent Extremism." In that directive, Section 2 notes, "Training should be sensitive to constitutional values," and it asserts, "training should support the protection of civil rights and civil liberties as part of national security. Don't use training that equates religious expression, protests, or other constitutionally protected activity with criminal activity."

Perhaps Obama's executive appointees to the FBI should adopt a similar policy and -- unlike his appointees at DHS -- abide by it. In the meantime, we are waiting for objections from oversight committee Republicans concerning Obama's latest attack on Bible-citing, Constitution-abiding Patriots....

I think the purpose is clear, and completely repulsive to liberty minded people.

I would make a comment, but I'm fairly certain that my words and sentiments would immediately bring me to the attention of the government officials monitoring this website.

Of course, just the fact that I routinely visit this website has likely secured my name on a "watchlist" somewhere in the bowells of DHS.

In fact, we've all probably got a reserved ticket on a boxcar in our future, should the current trend and political leadership of this country continue unaltered on it's present path. See you all in the gulag.

This is getting downright ridiculous. It saddens me that these folks in our government can do these things so blatantly and get away with it. What has caused such complacency in this country? Why are people ok with others telling them how to live? Why are people content to let others fight their battles? Why do people think the government knows what is best for them? Because they went to law school? Because they went to an Ivy League school? I'm an engineer from the Midwest and I could run this country 10 times better than anyone else that is in office and you know why? Not because I'm "smart" or "educated" but because I have the well-being of THE PEOPLE in mind..... and the best thing you can do for the people is let them be free and make their own decisions..... each person knows what is best for themselves. I'm tired of the government putting me on a list because I believe in the Constitution or the Bible, both documents that have been around far longer than any of those buffoons in office. Give me a break!

Screw the FBI and Big Sis! These morons are paid by the U.S. Taxpayer and should follow the oath they took and the constitution. If they don't, then they should all be dealt with accordingly. This country is on the express elevator to hell. It is getting close to revolution time. If Obummer and sos Clinton are allowed to continue their assault on the American way of life as we know it, they have to be stopped. By any means necessary.

The ability of our government to rob the citizenry of its rights is based on the lack of participation by the voters of this nation. I, am a Bible-thumping advocate of personal and religious freedoms and I don't support the current government definition of tolerance, but the leaders who are elected have been elected by we the people. That means that there were more bleeding-heart, non-motivated voters in this country than there were self-motivated, energetic, dream-making, constitution-loving (and many more hyphenated adjectives) hard-working voters when messiah Obama appeared. This has been brought about by the government also. The government continues to build its private base of voters by socially imprisoning the "less fortunate" with "gimme dollars". We who desire who want personal freedom and opportunity will not have the ability to vote our choices in.

The largest Super-Pac in this nation is the U.S. Government. With 40% or more of this country on the government payroll in one form or another, you don't have to be a prophet to see how future elections are going to play out.

Socialism will be inevitable in this nation if those who are asleep at the wheel (read: on the government dole) don't wake in time to find, like the frog put in a pot of water and brought to a slow boil, that they have missed their opportunity for the good life and have sold it all for a mess of pottage.

I am 72 years old, still working and a proud member of the Tea Party!! I am a proud American and Christian and hate the turn that our nation is going through!! If that makes me a radical and a criminal, then so be it!! I cannot believe that changes that have gone in effect in the last few years. The MSM does such a sorry job of reporting the facts that I have quit even listening to them.

I do not get Fox News, so depend upon the Patriot Post for up-dates.

I was born in the late 30's, and my folks still felt the result of the great depression. We were poor, but would not have taken Welfare even if we were starving. We maintained our dignity by using our personal resources to get through hard times.

I was working to make money for school clothes by the time I was 12. It gave me a real sense of pride to know that I was helping my folks.

We seem to have lost this pride in ourselves and our country.

We have generations of people that have never known anything but government hand-outs. They have nothing to show for their lives and nor anything to be proud of. That is a horrible situation! I am not smart enough to know how to fix all our problems, but I do understand that to have self-worth and pride, you have to work to take care of yourself and not depend on the government or your parents to take that responsibility from you.

FBI report - An increase of 8 over 10 is 80%...that's incredible! We "terrorists" are indeed a threat...to Statism. If the DHS report was not finished or operational, why was it released? Once again, the mistake made was that it was discovered.

In late 2010 I made a mistake and went to the Obama Attack Site to check it out. It captured my email address and I promptly started receiving campaign ads for BHO. I professionally but clearly responded to remove me from their lists. After several attempts, I stopped receiving the notices, then received an IRS notice of audit of my charitable contributions. Coincidence? You tell me.

Being a member of a Tea Party does pose a threat to the government if that government truly hates the Constitution, The Bill of Rights, Declaration of Independence, and the Ten Commandments. Our present government has made it more than clear, it disgusts them to see citizens who honor God and Country.

I called it because its what it is, the "Juden laws" It was passed by rove, Bush, Cheney after 9-11. warrentless searches, sights as this tagged as terrorist yet at the time no one cared.

We can blame Obama but who extended it? The GOP after they regained the house and it went through a DNC senate. It started in the house. The Tea Party

Put the blame where it started and you the people need to take back your country voted against it but the speaker of the House forced them to re-vote his way.

Tell me, anyone, do any of you feel safer or more violated? the GOP put it i n place and I said last year, do you honestly think anyone is going to let loose of power? No one is for they want more power and we gave it to them. Obama extended it, Rove, Cheney, Bush started it, we are all equally guilty for allowing this to happen.

Hamilton made a point, He said words to the effect and I wish he would restate them again, "if Commentators are being monitored on this post.."

and I stated, they are for some of them (Commentators) were advocating open revolution, that by HLS definition makes you a a terrorist.

The destruction of this country, we helped it, now let's fix it. Kill the Bill. The editors said, force them to live to there oath, I bided my time for it's not about giving an oath to a lobbyist (Norquist) verses the constitution, for there are far more pressing issues facing us. If you want to fight for something, FIGHT FOR FREEDOM. KILL THE LAW!

RE JG: It's not this leadership. They count on Conservatives to be focused on those who aren't Conservatives hence they can slide in. This leadership? Ask Carl rove why he was for it then once you define the problem, (root of it), you can kill the problem but not until. This is what they count on.

RE: All commentators above my Post: See above paragraph.

It's strange at first no one cared, then the DNC growled about it for political points, now the GOP backs it (except for Ron Paul)

this is part of a long line of inuendos, now outright spoken words that try to indicate conservative speaking people are a threat to the United States. This seems also to play into that law that the President signed which authorizes the imprisonment of any citizen of the US upon suspicion of a terrorist activity -no defenses, no trials, no way out of jail and can be held indefinitely. Sounds like Mr. Obama has gotten another notch in his belt toward government control of its people. People, need to wake up. Proposition 8; Statement about "clinging bitterly to their religion and guns;" The candidate who would not cover his heart or wear an American flag on his lapel until his handlers showed nationwide outrage; The only Prez who ignored National White House Day of Prayer, but then prayed shortly thereafter at a Muslim event; most of the Democratic leadership (from Pelosi on down) inferring that the Tea Parties are violence prone and possible terrorists while ignoring Ayers' influence (and others) on our Chief Executive's decisions... there is no doubt in my mind that "We, the People" are in trouble, akin to the times

The FBI Terrorist Alert List looks a lot like the Obama Campaign Enemy List. Wait a minute, it's the same thing! Obama uses the word enemy for those who politically oppose him. He never intended to be a President for the people of the United States Of America, only those who agree with him. We need to understand this mindset and be aware that his cronies are now in charge of all the Federal Agencies, including the FBI, DHS and DOJ. He now has the FBI labeling anyone who disagrees with him politically a potential terrorist. Remember the DHS 9 page Rightwing Extremism Assessment that came out in April of 2009? DO NOT FORGET IT! It labeled the same people and returning veterans from Iraq and Afganistan potential terrorists. The question should be, what action does Obama intend the FBI to take? Government by Executive Order and Agency Directive isn't attractive.

Fed Up

I guess this puts the Patriot Post, and every one of us who blogs here, on the FBI and Homeland Security (Gestapo's) "terrorist" list.

It is a sad day in America when its government has to resort to scare tactics to continue forwarding its un"constitutional" agenda. And I promise you, this scares a majority that previously had and would be more vocal against this increasingly tyrannical and overbearing socialist government policies.

Mark, had any requests as to the owners of any of our email addresses? I would love to make a phone call to a couple friends.

So the report says we are not wholly organized. So maybe it is time to do so en masse? They (those in government who swore to protect and defend our CONSTITUTION) quickly forget why the forefathers wrote it and the means they provided for citizens (2nd Amendments) to "throw off" a despotic government.

Honestly, it should be DHS that is fearful - especially now that they targeted most PATRIOTIC, CONSTITUTIONAL, freedome-loving and minded American Citizens.

I take great offense to the suggestion that I am a terrorist simply for serving and loving my country and its CONSTITUTION.

By if they want a fight with the people, let it begin sooner than later. I am sure millions are standing prepared and ready, already.

The Bible and the Constitution share a common theme, both start with negatives: thou shalt not. Those of us who want to speak to the need for "thou shalt not" are easily pigeon holed as intolerant. To speak of something as "sin" (thou shalt not) is to be intolerant. To limit what the government can do is intolerant. God spoke to Adam and Eve in the garden and gave them great freedom, the only "thou shalt not" they were given was do not eat of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil." Everything else in that paradise was theirs for the taking. The serpent, like our post-modern culture, says the same thing to each of us, "you will not surely die. For God knows that when you eat of it your eyes will be opened, and you will be like God, knowing good and evil." Why just yesterday I heard Obama mention God when asked about the current Air Force brouhaha. And like the serpent he misspoke when he said, "What God wants is for us to get our economic house in order." (paraphrase). How often I hear people say, "God helps those who help themselves." I have looked everywhere in the Bible to find that statement, it is not in the Bible. In fact what the Bible says is, "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land." Ronald Reagan looked at the Soviet Union and spoke of the "evil empire." If he was still with us he wouldn't have to look across the ocean to see the "evil empire," he would just have to look out his window.

Such governmental overreaching should be used as fodder during the presidential campaign. Freedoms once lost are difficult to regain and the current trend of socialism in America has woeful repercussions. Obama's handiwork should be trumpeted from the rooftops so that voting Americans can hopefully show him and his ever-ravenous meddlers the door.

History does repeat itself. Follow the regimes of Nazi Germany, Fascist Italy and Communist Russia. The People were oppressed and suppressed.....which is what is taking place here and now. We cannot let this President get away with the fulfillment of his agenda to follow the lead of Europe! We cannot let him shred our Constitution as he is doing little by little. While the list of indicators has slightly expanded during the present administration they are not the first. I figure I've been on a list somewhere since the Clinton administration. Remember his AG's indicators of being an extremist? The ones I remember are a strong belief in the Constitution, frequent quoting of the Founders, a belief that the Bible is the inerrant word of God, a strong belief in the 2nd Amendment, and are homeschoolers. The main thing the current administration did was to add veterans to the list and change us to terrorists instead of extremists. They also added maintaining more than a 7 day supply of food. All the above indicators match me to a T.

United States Constitution

Amendment 1 - Freedom of Religion, Press, Expression. Ratified 12/15/1791.

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

I was going to highlight portions of that, but it is not necessary since every single portion and phrase of that Amendment applies to the FBI's "terrorist profile"...and that is a grievance that will be redressed when they use that profile to come to my door.

Radical Extremism obviously depends on who is looking at it. Ayers and Wright fit that description before but now are just "Concerned Citizens". Our Government has been led into a full 180 degree flip.

Or has it? Once I would have said that this could not be seen as possible but today we have been led here by almost ALL of our Governmental Representatives over many years.

Power Corrupts, Absolute Power Corrupts Absolutely. We have stood by and nodded our heads for the last 50 years as one horrific thing after another occurred.

We The People have allowed ourselves to be bought off with "bread and circuses" or "gimcracks and gew-gaws".

We are awakening. Are we going to be awake enough when the time comes to defend Our Liberties? How about your Children's or Grand Children's? Our Founding Fathers were concerned that we would too soon let our freedom slip from our grasp. It seems that they were right to be concerned.

This FBI report, just like the DHS "Rightwing Extremism" report in April 2009, has the foul stench of the Southern Poverty Law Center all over it.

The sources for the 2009 DHS report were primarily "research" (read propaganda and smears) provided and published by SPLC. As the AFLG put it, "DHS functionaries simply cruised the Internet (in tin-foil hats, no doubt) and relied entirely upon some of the most disreputable sites on the web to stage its attack upon its 'rightwing' targets."

In response to FOIA requests from Americans for Limited Government, the DHS provided links to their "research" sources for the 2009 Rightwing Extremism smear. Many of the source news stories listed cited SPLC propaganda or quoted SPLC spokesmen and many of the links are "reports" published by SPLC on their website.

<http://www.getliberty.org/files/09-502%20Interim%20Response%20Website%20Links.pdf>

The SPLC is well-known for manufacturing threats from "rightwing extremists" while praising Islamic jihadists and leftwing terrorists like Bill Ayers and ignoring Latino drug gangsters and hoodlums of the new Black Panther Party.

The SPLC's primary mission is to raise money, enrich themselves, and smear their ideological opponents with exaggeration, distortion, unnamed sources, and plainly false "reports." In recent months, they've been working to "rehabilitate" the former DHS staffer (Daryl Johnson) who was canned over the "Rightwing Extremism" fiasco by having him interviewed and quoted in various media outlets. The SPLC are presented as "extremism experts" by the unquestioning media who NEVER question the background or sources of the SPLC. Integrity, curiosity and fairness are too much to expect from modern so-called journalists.

For the life of me, I can't fathom why any worthy agent in the FBI or DHS (or local law enforcement officer) would give the SPLC the time of day--- much less use and spread the SPLC's propaganda for them.

The FBI is apparently as politicized and partisan as the DHS and Janet Napolitano. Obama's brownshirts are apparently taking a page from the Nixon/Clinton playbook to punish their enemies, only using the FBI instead of the IRS.

I'd say it is about time we started talking about a limited government and constitutional authority in America. The federal government had to step in to allow persons of a certain color to attend public facilities when states discriminated based on race. The very opposite is taking place now. The federal government sees only certain individuals who believe the federal government has overstepped it's federal mandate allowed by the U.S. Constitution as the enemy. The very idea that the federal government would single out individuals that believe the Bible to be a good source of instruction for daily living as terrorists that threaten our security is unbelievable. I'd like to know what security they believe is being threatened. In my opinion, it is the federal bureaucrats who believe their authority is threatened. What they believe is it is the federal government's prerogative to target those freedom loving individuals who love our country and have always lived by the laws of our country and have always believed that the rules of law would be applied fairly to all. It is my opinion that the federal government no longer believes they are accountable to the electorate.

Dear friends,

I have studied the histories of the major "absolutist" revolutions of the 20th century. It is tragic but activities and communications like these are right out of the revolutionary playbook.

Accusations against patriots (and Christians) that twist lies into truth and truth into lies are part of dividing citizens and setting them against each other. So is class and racial warfare. The notion is that, if people hear the same thing over and over, eventually it will sink in and become a part of their belief system, even if repugnant to them on the surface.

These are ways to spread fear and hatred, because all forms of the collective, absolutist state can only survive in an atmosphere of fear and hatred. And - yes, let us not forget ignorance. In far too many ways, we Americans have become ignorant.

There is so much more that could be said about what's going on here. It has all been done before and is well documented for those who read history with any care. It is a carefully planned strategy, just like all the things that have caught us by surprise in the last three years. All fronts are under attack at the same time - surely this has been planned long ago or it would not be possible. The massive, multi-front attacks are aimed to disorient and exhaust us, since we are now considered to be a soft, dissolute, weakened people.

Those who would rule and "bury" us must feel we are ripe for the picking.

The question is, are we ripe for the picking? Or is there still American fiber and resolve left that will refuse to go along with the program and put an end to the spreading disease before it becomes an epidemic and an absolutist revolution under our watch and our very noses.

Back in the 1950s and 1960s the Army, not wanting to provoke negative reaction from the Soviet Union and its supporters, fellow travelers, apologists, and useful idiots here and abroad had a complete world of doctrine, uniforms, training aids and publications, and the like (at considerable expense) for the forces of the "aggressor nation". The adversary in training exercises was never identified or alluded to as the Soviet Bloc, USSR, North Korea, or any other real entity even though those were among the real-world adversaries against whom we were conducting training.

It seems we gave more consideration to our real enemies (they were so described by themselves) than we are willing to give to our own citizens such as tea party participants, patriots, and constitutionalists as well as more radical groups such as the "sovereign nation" folks. So far as anyone can determine, and certainly the FBI and DHS are deeply engaged in trying, none of these groups advocates nor has taken any action to "overthrow" the government by any but constitutional means; i.e., the ballot box. Certainly there are groups that do rise to the level of potential or actual terrorist groups, but they do not include either patriots nor constitutionalists by any definitional stretch.

We are witnessing another round in a concerted effort to demonize and marginalize (and eventually persecute) those who do not adhere to the party line of the (and here we get into definitional issues) progressive, liberal (so-called, but clearly not), statist, corporatist, fascist, whatever, wing of the party of the current administration. President Obama is the point man and, partly because party identification apparently trumps everything for a large segment of the population, the Democrat Party provides the foot soldiers. One can wish Democrat patriots and constitutionalists (I think there are some) will begin to look behind the curtain.

Any of the groups that are trying to get back to the America of the Founders from where I stand are Patriots, not a Threat to anything or one except the Members of the US Government and the Justice System that feel a Living Constitution is the Only one which matters, there is no Living Constitution nor will the Vast Majority of the American Population accept that notion. Government has gotten far to large and has ignored the Rule of Law for far to long.

The People Have the Right to Abolish and reform our Government if we collectively believe it has become a Government of unjust oppression, and or a Supreme Court assuming far to much authority, thinking themselves as a co-equal branch of Law Makers.

If this makes us a threat to the Central Government then I would suggest they are aware of the fact they have disregarded the Rule of Law and overstepped the Constraints of Article I Section 8 of the United States Constitution, placing themselves into a position of jeopardy.

The central Government has over reached, overtaxed, over regulated to the point that the Citizens of this Country are tired of it and are getting real close to a Constitutional Convention to correct the wrongs forced upon us.

Radical Extremism obviously depends on who is looking at it. Ayers and Wright fit that description before but now are just "Concerned Citizens". Our Government has been led into a full 180 degree flip.

Or has it? Once I would have said that this could not be seen as possible but today we have been led here by almost ALL of our Governmental Representatives over many years.

Power Corrupts, Absolute Power Corrupts Absolutely. We have stood by and nodded our heads for the last 50 years as one horrific thing after another occurred.

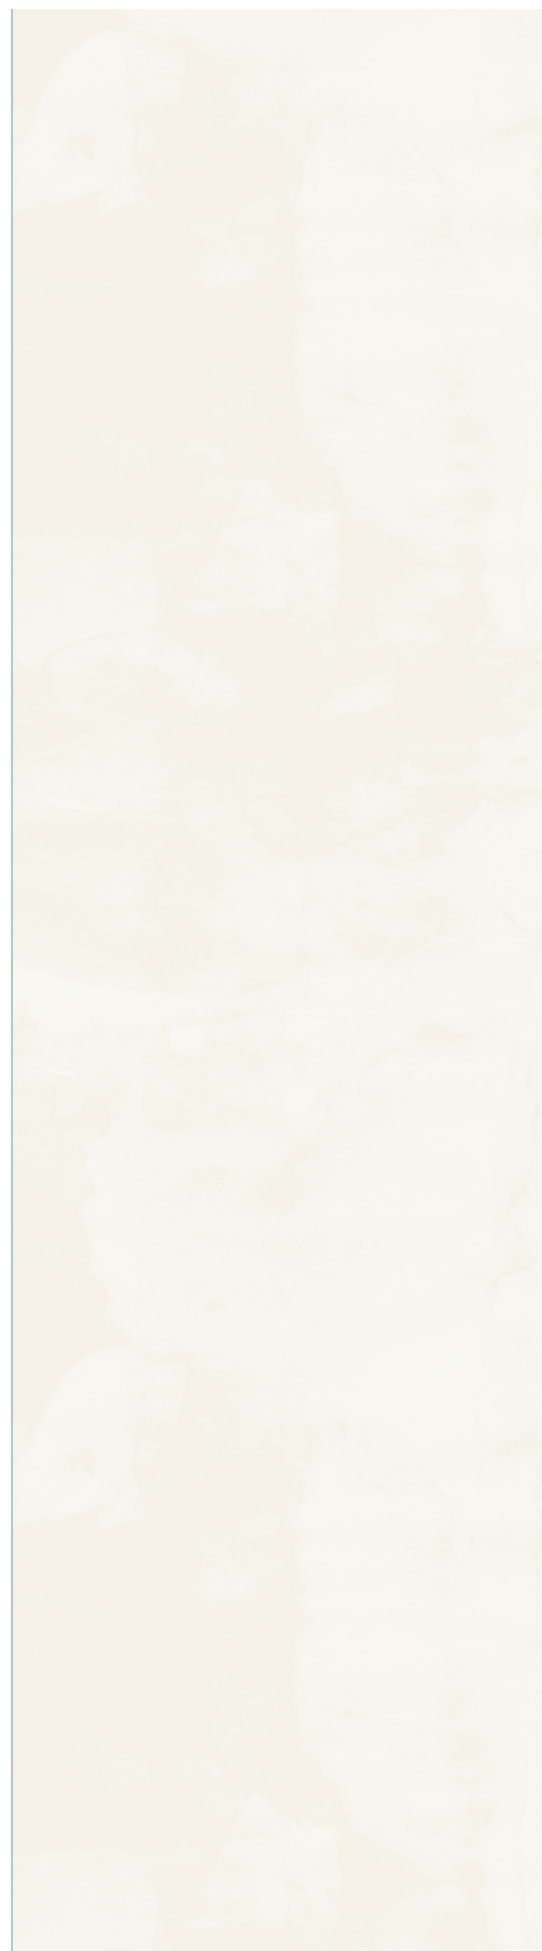

We The People have allowed ourselves to be bought off with "bread and circuses" or "gimcracks and gew-gaws".

We are awakening. Are we going to be awake enough when the time comes to defend Our Liberties? How about your Children's or Grand Children's? Our Founding Fathers were concerned that we would too soon let our freedom slip from our grasp. It seems that they were right to be concerned.

I have been accused by some of my liberal friends as being 'un-American' citing my previous serviced as a USN Officer because I criticize the current administration and urge a return to Constitutional government. I should hasten to point out that, while on active duty, I was obligated to obey all orders by my superiors BUT after complying I had the privilege (and in fact OBLIGATION) to question any doubtful legality.

Opposition to current liberal policies has absolutely nothing to do with patriotism or loyalty. Any thoughts to the contrary smacks of oligarchy and/or dictatorship.

Every American Patriot, military veteran, Boy Scout, and Christian soccer Mom is a terrorist. I think we should all write to the Director of the FBI, identify ourselves as a Sovereign Individual, tell him our location, and invite him by for a little chat. We should also contact the Governor of our State to inquire if he plans to defend the Constitutional rights of his citizens.

The Communist Obama Revolution is picking up steam. If this doesn't upset our representatives to the point of action, the political coup will be finalized before the election.

I wonder, Mr. Director, is it possible that a terrorist like me can be terrorized by an upstanding American citizen like you? Is a terrorist like me supposed to be terrified that a bunch of communist radicals like your boss are going to kill me deader than a door nail? This becomes much more serious when it is understood congress just passed and the president signed into law the National Defense Authorization Act. Coupled with the FEMA camps scattered throughout the nation should, if it doesn't, create suspicion among we citizens. What does this administration have to do to get our attention? Or should the question be why "aren't we paying attention to what is going on?" I know those of us who are older are paying attention but the people who will be effected the most, the younger generation, are not paying any attention at all.

I'm afraid by the time the younger generation does wake up it will be too late. That's the way it happened in 1930's Germany and it appears we have learned nothing from that.

Glenn Beck is ridiculed, disparaged and make fun of everyday. But he is correct to warn us of possible problems in our future. I for one do not always agree with him especially politically but I see where he is right about many things he presents. He very rarely presents an opinion but instead presents verifiable facts. In many cases his stories are from the mouth of the person he is exposing. Very hard to disagree or prove him wrong in those cases. However, that is the very reason he is so hated!

If we do not recognize the problems and take appropriate action in the next election there is no doubt it will be too late in 2013. Funding for the obama version of the German brown shirts kicks in, in 2013. If you do not know who they are do some research and find out for your self.

Oh, this is so frustrating!

I don't even know if it is "Ron Paulies" or if it is the Obama machine because all I really know for sure is that it is someone who is using authority they have not been granted to impose the lies they believe on the illusory messages of the internet. As we move closer to November the fear of not being reelected by the Marxist lawless factions from Washington has caused them to escalate their efforts to destroy our Republic and democratic way of life. They are willing to do what ever is required to accomplish this objective including trampling the Constitution & ignoring our laws. Eric Holder Obama & those involved in Fast & Furious is a perfect example.

History has many examples that the only thing lawless people understand is punishment which in many cases requires force. Though those in Congress democrat or republican realize the unconstitutional lawless actions of obama & his thugs but are unwilling to do what is right for the American people. At some point those true Americans who love this country will be forced to unite against a tyrannical government as our forefathers did or be forced into slavery. For those who cherish the freedoms provided by this republic a decision will be required FIGHT and die as free men or live on our knees as slaves. If obama is reelected this decision may come soon than later.

Once I was the step-mother or a teenaged boy and girl. The girl would taunt the boy endlessly. She would taunt him to the point of his chasing her to beat the crap out of her. She would then run like heck to her room and slam the door and lock it. The boy tried many times to get the door open and once resorted to taking a case knife and trying to open the bolt of the lock. Still the girl would taunt him. No amount of trying to reason with the girl would stop her from the taunting of her brother.

So, when she was at school, I removed the lock on her door. After school she began tha taunting anew....and when he could not control himself any longer, he chased her. she ran to the room and closed the door....but this time the door had no lock. Naturally I didn't let him beat her up but this stopped the daily taunting.

This would work with Washington. Take away their secret service and armored vehicles and bullet proof glass. They would think before taunting a citizenry that is mad as heck. They would stand exposed in facing the people they taunt.

As long as the masses-r-asses continue to function in accordance with what Charlotte Iserbyt has described in her outstanding book, The Deliberate Dumbing-Down of America, we are on the fast road to subjugation. When an imposter, a fraud, a toadie of the powers-that-are, can get elected to the leadership of our once great Republic, we are almost there!

Posted February 9, 2012 at 4:33:59 PM

Robert W. Brooks

Within a short span, of time, the citizenry of this great Republic shall participate in a paramount election.

The person eventually occupying the Oval Office is of importance, but the four-hundred and thirty-five (435) voting Representatives and one hundred (100) voting Senators are of paramount importance.

Why? Legislation {read laws} are authored and passed by the five hundred and thirty-five voting members of Congress. The occupant, of the Oval Office, is the signer/approver of a law, but if so inclined, chooses to veto same, his veto can be overridden by a vote of two-thirds (2/3), of the voting members of Congress, thereby passing the legislation (law). This has rarely happened, but with individuals, of character, this should occur.

We know this and what is its importance? In recent years we, the citizens of this Republic, have witnessed, whether knowingly or asleep at the wheel, "contemporaneous" pieces of legislation (laws). Pick whichever law you chose, on 'thomas.gov', and read the verbiage. Are the governing parameters specifically stated as well as the penalties for non-compliance/violation? NO! The legislation (law) speaks in generalities and leaves the interpretation or implementation, of the legislation/law, to the Department/Secretary declaration.

Effectively the Department/Secretary promulgates regulations thereby implementing the various sections, of the passed legislation (law), and these regulations become the enforceable law, of the land. From whence does this Department/Secretary's legislative authority originate? These regulations/laws are usurpation, of this Republic's legislative process, as not one of these Department/Secretaries is elected by vote of the People.

In the approaching election and all future elections, it is imperative that we elect Representatives and Senators with ethical standards, who will stand by these principles and cast their vote accordingly. They must be willing, to nullify, this "legislation by regulation" practice and perform their sworn legislative duty.

May I draw your attention to a case in point: the legislation commonly referred to as 'Obamacare.' Before passage by the House of Representatives, did not the Speaker clearly declare: "we must pass this legislation to find out what is in it?" She blatantly announced to the American citizenry, whether we realized it or not: until this law is passed and the Secretary issues the governing regulations we will not know what is in the law.

Our fight is to elect a Congress that will abide by their sworn duty and responsibility to protect and defend the Constitution of these united States!

It occurs to me that by calling us "domestic terrorists" the Obama administration is attempting to either stifle opposition (calling us racists worked for a while) or provoke a hostile reaction, thus creating a self-fulfilling prophecy. This misrepresentation has been going on a long time as a part of a Leftist propaganda campaign designed to marginalize anyone who criticizes Obama. Since the race card has failed, now they're playing the terrorist card.

After several years and observing the methods of the FBI, ATF, the so-called Homeland Security I have lost my faith and trust in these agencies. I would not trust them for one minute.

Add to that the passing of the Patriot Act, and the recent passing of the NDAA. and we have a Congress, not only a President, who have blatantly acted with contempt of the rights of the citizens of the republic. These two acts and the Congress members who voted for each of them do not deserve to continue in office. They have purposely and with intent, misrepresented themselves to the citizens as acting in the best interests of the United States of America. These actions and others to numerous to mention here are treasonous and should provide reasonable cause to impeach them, remove them from office and try them for treason against the citizens and the republic of the United States.

How long will our citizens allow this? How long will the citizens enable these people to take the Constitutional rights from us without a wimper or complaint from citizens or our great free press?

This is an outrage against our trust and honor. And it cannot be tolerated.

First it's Napolitano and the DHS. Now, the FBI. I think it is pretty lame. They are "worried" because they know they are completely out of bounds on this entire matter. Things are shaping up in a negative fashion very rapidlyand it is no surprise. We have tyrannical leftists, who have no regard for our constitutional rights, running this country and its citizens right into the ground.

Every government employee who writes such directives or any document [drafts and otherwise] containing such un-American, un-Constitutional and repugnant ideas, thoughts or beliefs should be either fired immediately or at least required to attend 'sensitivity training' - not unlike the training required of those insensitive to what constitutes sexual harassment, negative or positive discrimination on the basis of protected characteristics or orientation or any other protected behavior.

The staffs put in place by the Obama/Reid/Pelosi communist/socialist mindset are thoroughly corrupted by anti-Constitution minions who can not or will not distinguish real terrorist threats from the exercise of free speech, free assembly, and freedom of religion [both clauses!].

In the same manner some decried the 'tone from the top' regarding loose interpretations of policy regarding torture by middle rank commissioned and non-commissioned officers, it is the tone from the top and explicit statements by the President, Department Secretaries, other top officials in the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Branches casting doubt about or expressing contempt for the Constitution that gives tacit approval to disregard for the Constitution. Comments by Justice Ginsberg are only the most recent in a long series of innuendo and explicit remarks that, by design or ineptitude [who believes a sitting Justice is inept?] are intended to discredit and undermine the Constitution. When the President describes the Constitution in terms of it being an 'inconvenient obstacle' to the changes he wants to make, what effect does that have on those whose careers, income and power are determined by the President?

Obama and Ginsberg and every official who explicitly expresses publicly a position which is out of alignment with their oath to 'protect and defend' the Constitution should be grounds for impeachment. Just as a military person cannot take public positions on political issues, no public official, and certainly not Presidents, Supreme Court justices and Congressional leaders can be permitted to denigrate the Constitution! It is superior to all of them! It controls them and not the other way around. It is the written expression of "WE THE PEOPLE". WE are in charge - not the temporary holders of office. It is they who must conform to the Constitution and are to be held accountable to their oaths.

But who will hold them accountable and how? If the gaggle of leaders of our government, of both 'major' parties are complicit in denigration of the constitution, who will impeach them? Who will put them from office? Our Declaration of Independence says it is the right of the people to do so. Yes, but how? If the democratic process we have used for centuries is not working, and rule of law is not working, and corruption of mind and heart of the leaders of our government gives them excuse for un-Constitutional behavior, and it is pervasive, what will WE THE PEOPLE do? What will you do?

1 I would not surprise me at all if we have seen our last presidential election. With all the power we have allowed to be centered in the presidency, it would be no big trick for the white house to instigate then declare some kind of emergency and suspend elections "until it is over".

2 I think the conservative media have it all wrong. They think that Obama "just doesn't get it", that he "just doesn't understand". Hog wash, he knows exactly what he is doing and is doing what he wants to do which is to destroy the system of government that has contributed more to the benefit of the whole world than any other nation in history. Final, though most important thought:

The US Constitution and fidelity to it and one's oath to protect and defend it are neither 'right' nor 'left' or any other label.

They are CENTRAL. They are the basis for evaluation of all public policy and government action.

Fidelity to the Constitution, as written, is the core of our nation, under God, and of our individual and collective libert. Deviation from the Constitution was, is and will be the problem. WE THE PEOPLE must demand absolute fidelity to the Constitution, as written, or change it by the designated process.

Ayers (man and wife), Wright, Obama (man and wife), Pelosi, Reid, Numerous members of Congress who knew Obama was ineligible to run for office, numerous members of the Supreme Court, numerous Federal judges, the FBI, the CIA, the NSA, and many members of Obama's cabinet, personal staff, and Czars all know that he is a usurper but have not the decency and/or courage to stand up like a pure citizen and declare same. The evidence he is a usurper is ample but judges reject it because they are part of the plot to convert America to a socialist society which Obama hopes to run. It all boils down to one simple fact: If Obama were legitimate why would he seal his entire past from inspection? He is hiding sinister information and he has idiots working for him who cannot even fake a birth certificate without getting caught. Here is a man with access to the highest secrets on the planet and he could not even pass a basic background investigation. What has happened to policies to protect our secrets? In response to your essay on FBI Terrorist Alert on Those Who 'Reference the Constitution or Bible' all I can say is the wolves are at the door. I can think of no prior administration that would allow such flagrant contempt for basic God-given rights. As they tighten the noose ever tighter around our necks they wonder why we scream louder. It seems that in this "New" America simple talk of our Constitution or Bible is enough to cause one to be dragged off to the gallows.

We are at a pivotal point at which we must make good and just decisions. It is incumbent upon every Patriot to do their duty for God and Country in this coming election. Cast your vote as if your Liberty depended on it for it truly does.

Your last statement isn't true. The Founders warned us that the Constitution and government we inherited required a 'moral and religious people' and that it was wholly inadequate for any other. As Ben Franklin said, it's a "republic, if you can keep it."

We didn't keep it.

When Lincoln trampled the Constitution, invading states that legally seceded (the DEFINITION of Treason in the Constitution), when he suspended the writ of habeas corpus without authority, when he threatened to arrest Chief Justice Taney for ruling that he lacked authority to suspend the writ, when he imprisoned tens of thousands of copperheads and others in the north for simply voicing disagreement with Lincoln war policy, when he closed hundreds of northern newspapers for "disloyalty"... the people did nothing.

When FDR trampled the Constitution with his "New Deal," he was re-elected over and over. He gave us the ponzi scheme known as Social Security and established dozens of agencies and functions NOT authorized by the Constitution.

When LBJ trampled the Constitution with his "Great Society," the people did nothing. He gave us Medicare and the nose of the government camel was in the healthcare tent. He carried us deeper into VietNam without a declaration of war from Congress setting a precedent for more undeclared and seemingly endless wars in the future.

When Bush trampled the Constitution with the Patriot Act, the people did nothing.

Of course, each of these presidents and others had the collusion of hundreds in the US Congress as they usurped authority that the Constitution did NOT grant.

The states did nothing because they had been neutered by Lincoln's War and the 17th Amendment which took away the States' representatives in the U.S. Senate.

The Supremes had declared themselves gods and the final arbiters of the meaning of plain language in the Constitution. Thus, new "rights" were found floating in the air and between the lines and prenumbras of the text. As Jefferson warned, the Constitution became a "thing of wax in the hands of the judiciary"... shaped into whatever form they desired.

The Rule of Law had become the Rule of Men when the dead Constitution was thus declared a "living document" --- thus, it means means nothing. The silent revolution was complete, the coup unnoticed by too many ignorant "citizens" totally unaware of US history, the Founding principles and the Framers' intent.

We weren't eternally vigilant and the tyrants slowly perverted our republic to a pretend democracy, where "mob rule" tyranny is commonplace, and corporate interests own our elected officials.

Our pretense as a nation with the Rule of Law is a farce and a tragedy.

and that also that some of the people are sworn to uphold for country and god to protect civilians. along as there is a slight understanding of what and why. and that if a person asks for counsel on things they have the right to be able to speak privately with council so the person or persons can keep there safety as long as the safety of others.

Sorry if it dont seem to make sence or if it does cause I have been asking in my local area to speak to a lawyer or some sort of council and been getting run around and avoided on person to person talk via phone or sorta face to face for representation on things.

and yet recognize thatThat whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security.

The real problem is that the rulers have little to no contact with their subjects.

Passive activities like Television, Movies, internet addiction, gluttony, texting, to some extent blogging etc...etc...have taken the place of political activism. Blowing one's stack in an online forum accomplishes little other than causing division between citizens and/or heads nodding in agreement among like minded politicos.

If the average conservative and/or libertarian spent even a fraction of their time actually contacting, making appointments with and volunteering for good candidates and incumbent representatives committed to preserving our representative democratic republic the domestic enemies within would not be so emboldened in pursuing their globalist power grab.

Are you guilty of spending more time complaining than participating in representative government activism? Look at the success of the violent, lawless anarchist union thugs in Minnesota and of the "Occupy" movement. They use our constitutional protections and a complicit media very successfully to intimidate, bully and threaten legislators into compliance.

Imagine how much good we could do and how much we could accomplish as peaceable, intelligent, law-biding activists if only we were as well organized and motivated as the anarchist/fascistic left-wing? We have met the enemy and the enemy is a passive opposition. (Us)

Get busy or forfeit our liberty and sovereignty to the barbaric, perverted and demonic left-wing.

"The only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is that good men do nothing." Attributed to Edmund Burke.

Your opinion counts. USE IT! The left-wing has infiltrated and is largely in control of a large number of these agencies. It is imperative that they hear from large numbers of us reminding them that they work for us not the other way around. If we remain committed to civil and peaceable activism in a deliberate and intelligent manner, slowly and steadily we will win the race.

Jim, you're correct about Obama knowing "exactly" what he's doing. It's all a part of his plan to "change" America into the socialist nation that he laid out before voters in '08 (socialized health care, wealth distribution, etc.) and described in his speeches and in his books. It's what drives him. He's already admitted that the Constitution has made it "more difficult to bring about change." That is a remarkable statement.

I stongly suggest that everyone get a copy of The Manchurian President, read it, then pass it on to someone else. That book should be required reading for every voting American.

That's why he wants the internet to be 'controlled'. Our rights/freedoms, guaranteed to us by our Constitution, are under horrific attack by this regime. obama even has the audacity to try and control the churches; Evangelical, Catholic, etc., in forcing his abortion, contraception agenda on them. Opinion; we must get rid of this diseased filled plague when the November 2012 elections come around. I think you misunderstood the FBI Terrorist Alert. The Obama Administration warnings or "Alert Bulletin" is to be used for identifying Conservative terrorists who have a religious faith. Silly you ... This has nothing to do with persons like William Ayers or Rev ?? Wright. Ayers killings and bombing are the crimes of the past ... otherwise he wouldn't be allowed to enter the White House. And the only statement that ultimately forced Obama to cast Wright out of his life [at least openly] was his "G..D... America' statement. If he had not said that, Obama would like still be sitting in that pew listening to Wright anti-White America sermon every Sunday ... cause Wright would likely have flown into Washington, DC, every Sunday to deliver his message of White and Capitalist hate to Obama.

The mistake you are making is that during the current Obama Reign, the only crimes that are being prosecuted are those of the Conservatives ... not the Left, and especially those of the Radical Left.

"... altered the scenario to include "the Tea Party in order to make it more realistic." Has the reason for inclusion of the Tea Party in the terrorist scenerio ever been answered? Not likely.

And remember ... if you criticize Obama in this blog ... likely your computer has been included in the anti-

It's funny but, I tend to think we need to get far more serious (our Government and us) about tracking guns and other weapons or ingredients for possible weapons. I also think every state in America should make it easy to get a concealed carry permit, where everyone's fingerprints would get taken by the FBI. Furthermore, I think that the vast majority of people in our military and any type of security and/or police department are highly respectable people in many ways. However, I have lost almost all respect for Democrats and obviously the Obama administration, at this point. I think it must have been just before Bill Clinton's administration when the media the the Federal Government overall still had me believing in their ultimate common goals with Conservatives (read: True Americans). I hope to get the time to learn a lot more about the Constitution AND the Bible while I'm still on the planet. If that makes me somehow suspicious, it might spice up the learning a bit, but it certainly won't prevent me from trying to learn more. Learning as they say, is the Fountain of Youth. There is not much hope for the Federal Government employees who will surely loose their jobs though; starting around 11-7-12. :)

Obama is very fortunate that most citizens don't bother to read books like THE MANCHURIAN PRESIDENT, THE AUDACITY OF DECEIT, THE ROOTS of OBAMA'S RAGE, CULTURE of CORRUPTION DREAMS FROM MY FATHER or THE AUDACITY of HOPE. Research seems to be a lost art. Most have never bothered to read the Constitution or The Declaration of Independence at least once. The warnings from our founders have been ignored year after year." If we expect to be ignorant and free in a state of civilization, we expect what never was and never will be...if we are to guard against ignorance and remain free, it is the responsibility of every citizen to be informed." Thomas Jefferson. After reading Rise and Fall of The Roman Empire i realized the same conditions that brought that empire down exist in America plus we have Socialist, Communist and other anti-American extremist groups with plans to bring America down. Those who bothered to read THE ROOTS of OBAMA'S RAGE and DREAMS FROM MY FATHER know why and how he planned to bring America down both military and economically. Give him four more years and he will succeed.

We were conquered by

THE NATIONAL SECURITY ACT of 1947

That shut down any chance of inquiry about what our government is doing. If you really, really want to know what has happened to our beloved country, you can find out in two books:

ACCESS DENIED For Reasons of Natonal Security

Formation of America

Both by Cathy O'Brien

and Mark Phillips

or you can just keep your head in the sand....as so many people are doing.

At least, I will know why and how our precious country was destroyed.

The very idea that a person who speaks his convictions, politically, or spiritually can be added to a terrorist watch list for simply exercising his 1st Amendment rights is ludicrous.

The people who spew hate and intolerance for the Christian faith and judeo-christian principles are being coddled by this administration.

The FBI agents should surely be smart enough to know when they receive illegal orders.

If an FBI agent approached me regarding my writings on our Constitution, the wrong headedness of those who govern and their failures to adhere to our Constitution and the divine foundation of our Nation, I would simply say: "Please take a deep breath and join me in repeating the oath of office you and I took as part of our service to this country."

Preacher Wright's influence is on people not on God. God knows what He is doing but people? They vote for pretty people, those who will tell them the nicest lies, and those who paint pretty, hopeful, cartoons they love to see and hear.

Unfortunately, that includes 90% of the sheeple who vote and all of those who do not vote.

Great Article! I fail to see how referring to or quoting the US Constitution makes a citizen suspect. Last time I heard, the Federal Government derived their enumerated and limited powers from that document.

Perhaps the reason is the Constitution only seems to be a hindrance to total power by the current President and his administration, some of whom seem to revere the Bill Ayers types. You could add the bombing of interstate power transmission towers to Ayers and his fellow Weathermen's deeds. I remember them claiming responsibility for those acts long ago.

I recall a time in the past when the American news media was championing a young, charismatic leader, a "great man" who would be a champion of the people, just prior to his assuming leadership of a country. No one knew anything about him but the Media all said he was "The One". Only after his installation did the public find out he was a Marxist-Leninist, schooled at length in Russia, spoke good Russian, and you know the rest. That was Fidel Castro. I can see a direct parallel between that media event and the media events leading up to the Obama campaign.

Let's see what happens in November!

I guess because of this alert that the FBI will now arrest U.S. Supreme Court Justice Ruth Ginsberg for her comment regarding the non-use of the U. S. Constitution that she advised the Libyan leaders not to use in forming their constitution.

This alert must be in preparation for when Obama declares Martial Law and we are all herded into the FEMA stockades.

The only way to deal with this cancer is to defeat it....at the ballot box in November, because if the Obama Presidency gets a second term without worry about getting elected, they could likely do vast irreparable damage to life as we know it.

I am well over 70,I have watched our beloved country drift into this abyss since the 60's.

My parents came to the USA to escape tyranny.

We were taught growing up to honor our God, family and this great country. They asked for nothing but to be free to be as successful as possible.

We were taught that no one owed us anything, we had to get it on our own. They survived the great depression, and never relied on anyone but their own labor and ingenuity.They became successful business people with very little education, but lots of hard labor and common sense. They raised 6 children and all of us were successful, with most being business people. We were all taught, that if you want to be better you will work for it.

We got no handouts, we got our educations the old fashioned way, we worked.

If the government lists me as a terrorist so be it!

I still believe in God, county, the Constitution and family!

And by the way I still enjoy working at my profession part time,my clients do not want to let go!! As I stated before, I'm way over 70!!

This is just another round of the same garbage as the infamous 2009 memo.

Actually, Obama, Napolitano, etc., are not the first to play this card. I got branded a Soviet sympathizer or spy, which was not only utterly false but ridiculous, by the CIA during the Eisenhower administration, and they lied to my U. S. Senator and me about this until 1983, despite having been provided with the evidence that my academic research triggering this was neither leftist nor clandestine in 1959-60.

This "sovereign citizen" thing is legally ludicrous, just like the "Republic of Texas" scam and others, including some of the "paper money isn't income" scams, people have let themselves be conned into over many years. I was appointed to represent one tax resister conned into it by a notorious con and the feds assembled 43 file folders of so-called "evidence," apart from the forensic accounting, including one folder containing an envelope he had mailed to someone sealed with a sticker that said "Support Your Flag." The court let him replace me with the lawyer who had conned him into this who should have been pointed out as the real culprit. The only case of a so-called "sovereign citizen" I know except for some fake financial instruments was a traffic case where the defendant insisted that driver's licenses and stop lights violated the federal Constitution, which of course is textually and historically absurd. I'm curious, fascinated, how our federal law enforcement agencies figure there are a half-million people active in this and the number of crimes linked to it leaps, in some kind of crime wave, from ten to eighteen. That would give these people the lowest crime rate of any demographic group this side of voters in the Chicago cemetery.

That certain powerful radical leftists would invalidate the Constitution and Bill of Rights, by claiming that anyone desiring a return to the Rule of Law through Constitutional supremacy somehow threatens the government, must not diminish our view that Rev. Something (if not already brought up) is that Constitutional conservatives can tell what's really up with the progressives is that their attack methods reveal what they are afraid of. Rush Limbaugh has sited this and he is on the mark. Whoever or whatever the left attacks is what they fear. A profound example is Sarah Palin.

There are so many other examples; but essentially, everything they do or are about is to advance their policies, agenda, their utopia, is in their propaganda or attacks on all conservatives stand for.

And to note, they are very good at what they do. They have managed to propagandize close to half the electorate to their side. Their methods are tried and true; they have been in effect for decades.

Guilty as charged---I believe in God, Country and family in that order. I think Obama is the Anti Christ spoken of in the bible and I believe those that are close to him are his deciples. Nobody has to do a thing or should do anything, except to impeach him or beat him in the election, which at this point I think he will win because he needs more time as President to further break the will and the spirit of the American people and put America on a third world basis and obligated to other nations and the eventual rise of a one world Govt. The bible has the answer to the Obama crisis, seek and ye shall find. The best defense is the same one Christ took---Passive reesistence, it will work out. demonstrations ect. will not work, quietly vote the anti Christ out of office, inform your friends and do it with knowledge and honesty and the Penquin and the Joke(er) will fall. the Joke is Biden Admit it, those described in your articles potential terrorists, really are that to the socialist, secular humanists of the world. God's Law "terrorizes" their abortion, homosexual, anti-personal success, race-bating policies.

Truth, especially God's truth, is a "terror" to all, because one of it's key functions is to require faith in the Person and Work of Jesus, the Christ.

It is the consistent work of a religious (secular humanist) school system that has brought about this lie and presented - and continues to present it - as the only acceptable belief system. {Whatever happened to the Establishment Clause of the First Amendment?}

This article is fatally flawed in that it attempts to limit this problem to the Obama administration.

The Patriot Act, the Violent Radicalization and Homegrown Terrorism Prevention Act of 2007 and the John Warner National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2007 all were passed during Pres. Bush's tenure.

The fact that the "War on Terror" is ambiguous is intentional. By claiming that our nation is at war the federal government continues to exercise carte blanche to incrementally nullify the Constitution, especially the Bill of Rights. All of the unconstitutional executive orders and legislation that began during the Bush administration have been accepted and expanded under the Obama administration. Understanding the illegal and irrational nature of the "War on Terror" helps expose the two party system as a sham. It's naïve to claim that the Republican Party is to the right of the Democratic Party when the Obama administration has advanced the "War on Terror". The inherently bogus conflict between the Right and the Left is also evident in that both parties in Congress have passed legislation related to the "War on Terror".

See the article linked below for more information.

For the first time in my life I am afraid for the future of my country. No country on earth can defeat us militarily. If this country falls it will come from within. The LORD said in His Word that in the Last Days He would give them over to a reprobate mind. The would be tyrant in chief is a prime example of that. If the reprobates turn out and good citizens stay home (like the last election) and he somehow manages to get reelected I fear this nation is doomed. GOD forbid! By the way the Last Days began May 15th 1948 when the United Nations declared Israel a sovereign nation once again. And GOD gave them that land four thousand years earlier but they were scattered because of their disobedience. In GODS WORD he said that HE would gather them back into the land of their fathers and the generation that saw it come to pass shall not all pass away before the end came. He will come to remove His people just prior to pouring out His Wrath on the inhabitants of the earth. While as Jesus said all hell such as has never been or ever will be again is happening on earth His people will be at a party in heaven He calls the marriage supper of the Lamb. And just because you don't believe doesn't mean it's not true. I have been blessed of God not to have been involved in the nasty business of war although I missed Vietnam by the skin of my teeth. My ancestors have fought in every war this nation has fought starting with the Revolutionary War and including the war of northern aggression, unfortunately the losing side. Wonder what it would be like if we had won? I believe it was Gods will this country remained whole because without it the nation of Israel would not exist. With GOD as my witness I swore to uphold The Constitution of the United States from enemys both foriegn and domestic up to and including the laying down of my life if necessary. I have no use for and the utmost disdain for anyone who politician or otherwise tramples on the Constitution. And to my knowledge Abraham Lincoln was the first president to do that. He is portrayed as a hero but remember the winner gets to write the history. This country was established by GOD and the American rifleman and if GOD willing will remain so by the same means. If the founding fathers were alive today they would be urging another revolution. They would not recognize the government we have today. The government is afraid of its citizens and know this. The first thing to do in turning citizens into subjects is to disarm them. The 2nd amendment to the Constitution is the most important of all because it upholds ALL THE REST! By the FBI's definition most Christian schools would be considered breeding grounds for terrorism. What an excuse to put a political officer in every Christian school and ban homeschooling altogether, or require audio records of what is taught. I realize many in the ranks of the police are honorable and are constitutionalists and I applaud them. Sadly their fellow officers not of the same beliefs would attack them first, should any constitutional uprising occur. We are in a police state, and it is getting worse, rapidly!

I have a few comments, and note that I really like this article.

The FBI has certain legal obligations to pursue fraud and corruption, as do many other federal agencies. The problem is that the FBI will not look for fraud and corruption above itself in the executive branch. The usurper-in-chief has protection for its own fraud and corruption from our country's police force. And that is wrong. It would appear the oath of office to the members of the FBI does not include defending against domestic enemies.

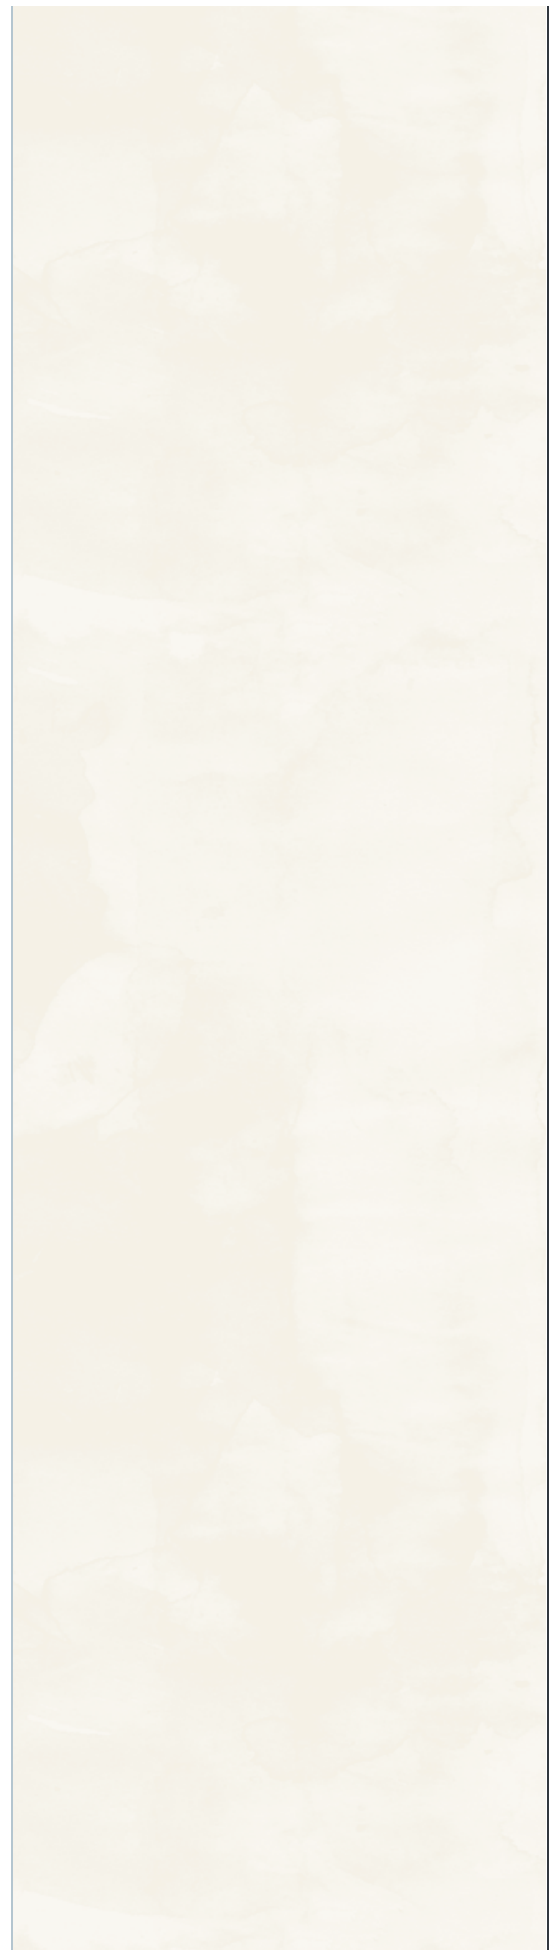

Where is J Edgar Hoover when we need him.

The church crowd is gathered in the city park for the annual church picnic when the Mayor ,the favored son and a parishoner,steps to the microphone. He calls for theHonor Guard to approach,two large boyscouts in uniform carry the Ammerican and state flags,toward the small stage. Then as the call to stand for the Pledge of Allegiance is heard another sound is made not too far off. At the end of a pledge that includes the phrase "under God" a droning sound gets lauder and nearer almost simultaneously from all around the town. A senior with a book clasped to his bosom rises and approaches the microphone which is held for him. He begins to speak and overcomes the increasing sound in the background," please remove your caps gentlemen," and then "let us bow and pray." To which he leads one and all in the time honored "Lords' Prayer" from memory as the approaching sound takes on a groaning of metal against metal. " A blessing from Jesus be upon all that have heard these words spoken here today," says the old pastor. Then he turns to regain his seat but not before the Mayor has waved the folks back into their respective seating as the din of noise has now surrounded them all. A hatch pops open from a tank and a single starred "general" with a microphone in his hand speaks," I am the acting Attorney General of your state." "You are all under arrest for unlawful assembly! Stay where you are to avoid any violence!" He points to the Banner where it states "Teas Annual Picnic and Family Party" Soldiers immediately surround the police officers and remove their sidearms,"for your protection we are taking extra precautions by removing any firearms from among you," further states the AAG! The butcher drops his cleaver on the bench and backs away to which a squad of soldiers approach and seize the cutlery," a wise choice mister!" says the AAG. "clung," the PA system goes dead as two soldiers confiscate it! Use your vote, and do your research on each candidate, lets make the most of our time before election day. Pick your republican winner, and stand behind them. Study what each candidate stands for and what they will do for our country, as a whole. Don't be blinded by falso promises, study the facts, and then make a choice. Voting the last time around we made some bad choices, because we made a bad choice as a whole, our countries liberties are at stake, and we are headed into socialism and down a road we will not recover from. Hmmm, this sounds like the Tea Party. Wait a minute, I'm a Tea Party member.

Me, a terrorist? I don't think so.

Well, duuhhh! since the 60's the proto communists have been targeting Christians, military personnel, gunowners, then white guys, white non-communist women, all non communist men and women, all hertrosexuals, anyone who disagrees with them, etc, etc. A lot of us have been trying to egt everyone elses attention for years. The TEA party seems to be our last hope for a peaceful solution.

I, however, figure the next election will be rigged 'Chicago style'. Perhaps that event will trigger events of biblical proportions that will take the US off the global scene for a while.

As for me and my house, we will serve the LORD and Serve and Defend.

Fed Up

Mid-November will tell if we need a nation-wide muster.

Be prepared conservatives, constitutionalists, tea partiers, military men and women, veterans, and libertarians, the US government has declared us enemies of the state.

Wait, isn't that millions and millions of people described above?

Nevertheless, we may have to confront this government soon after the first week of November.

The Patriot Post is a highly acclaimed advocate of Essential Liberty, the restoration of constitutional limits on government and the judiciary, and the promotion of free enterprise, national defense and traditional American values. We believe, as did our Founders, that Essential Liberty must be defended at any cost. "They that can give up essential liberty to purchase a little temporary safety, deserve neither liberty nor safety." (Ben Franklin) · "A Constitution of Government once changed from Freedom, can never be restored. Liberty, once lost, is lost forever." (John Adams) · "The tree of liberty must be refreshed from time to time with the blood of patriots and tyrants." (Thomas Jefferson) · "If there must be trouble, let it be in my day, that my child may have peace." (Thomas Paine) · "It does not take a majority to prevail...but rather an irate, tireless minority, keen on setting brushfires of freedom in the minds of men. ... If ye love wealth better than liberty, the tranquility of servitude than the animating contest of freedom, go from us in peace. May your chains sit lightly upon you, and may posterity forget that ye were our countrymen!" (Samuel Adams) · "Give me liberty or give me death!" (Patrick Henry) · "Our cause is noble; it is the cause of mankind!" (George Washington)
